

TIPS ON REVISION

- Mnemonics
- Bullet Points
- Mind Maps
- Tape the revision session and play it back regularly
- Recite it every night like 'The Lord's Prayer'
- Write it out from memory and check against book
- Put Post-it notes around the room
- Make revision cards of key points – make them shorter each time
- Read condensed notes the night before the exam to consolidate learning
- Making up your own questions and answering them
- Past papers
- Internet/BBC Bitesize.
- Use highlighters.
- Revision study groups.
- Speaking out loud.
- If you have difficulty remembering something, make up a joke or a rhyme about it.
- Testing questions in a group.
- Make lists of key points.
- Condense revision down into small chunks.
- Put key points into a PowerPoint presentation
- Getting quizzed on the subject by parent or someone else.
- Understand your style of learning – visual, auditory, practical, written etc.
- Get plenty of sleep and eat the right food.
- No caffeine.
- Exercise to make your mind sharper.
- Recording notes and playing them back before you go to sleep.
- Make a revision plan subject by subject, day by day.
- Colour-code subjects in notes
- MyMaths
- Make sure you get up early on study leave so you have the whole day, then schedule regular breaks.